1. Nature of the Conference

Since its inaugural in the year 2013, the Body, Mind and Life Conference has been organized every year at Men-Tsee-Khang, Dharamsala. This international level conference has been seeing more than 300 participants every year from both inside and outside India. The participants gain access to different perspectives of knowledge related to mental healthcare from reknowned scholars. We at the department, believe that in this materialistic age, the promotion of optimal mental healthcare services to humanity has equal importance and stature as does the more researched aspect of physical healthcare. The conference lasts for three days across which perspectives from traditional Tibetan Medicine, Buddhist Philosophy, Tibetan Astro-science and also others from Modern Science, different religious and medical systems are shared on a single platform related to body, mind and life.

2. Brief History

a) In 2013, the Inaugural Body, Mind & Life Conference saw 19 scholars colloquium on topics : The Nature of Body, Mind and Life; their Seeds; their Relationships; their Disturbing Factors and Remedies; and their Restoration and Maintenance. The conference had 350 participants.
