ENGLISH PAPER : 20 Marks

I. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given at the end.

The man who had been asked to serve as the artisan of India's vivisection because he had known so little about it, contemplated for the last time in his life the mournful landscapes of the country he had divided. Cyril Radcliffe, under close security guard, was going home. The last task accomplished by the ISC Officer delegated to assist him had been to comb his plan for a possible bomb. Lost in this thoughts, the British Jurist watched from his aircraft window as the Punjab's endless fields of wheat and sugarcane slipped past, their furrows indelibly altered now by the tracings of his pencil on the map.

Radcliffe knew well the grief and consternation the lines he'd produced were going to cause. There had been, also, no lines he could have drawn that would not have brought forth the harvest of anguish and suffering. The elements inexorably propelling the Punjab to the tragedy had been inherent in the situation long before Cyril Radcliffe had been summoned to India. As certain as the eternal cycle of the Punjab's seasons, the consequences of his award would, he knew, be terrible bloodshed, violence and destruction. And just as certain, he knew it was he who would be blamed for it all.

1. Who did vivisection of India?
2. What was the last task accomplished by his assistant ICS Officer?
3. Why is Cyril Radcliffe worried about the consequences of his work?
4. Why do Cyril Radcliffe think that he alone is not to be blamed for the tragedy?
5. Write in your own words the meanings of the underlined words.
